

THEIR WELCOME IS VOCIFEROUS

Suffragettes Reach Princeton and Are Noisily Greeted by Students.

THEY TRAMP 27 MILES

Footsore and Weary. Some of
They Are at Point of Exhaustion.

Princeton, N. J., February 13.—The staccato yell of Princeton University, with the appendage, "Votes for women! Votes for women! Votes for women!" greeted the "army" of suffragettes which is marching to Washington, when it arrived here at 7 o'clock to-night. The women, thirteen strong, had covered twenty-seven miles in eight hours of actual walking, and several of them were on the point of exhaustion when the lights of the university town twinkled a welcome. The "army" of suffragettes, commanded by the expedition, declared that for real hardship, to-day's walk exceeded anything she had experienced. "Corporal" Martha Klatschen, who is less than five feet tall, had to be supported during the last four miles of the march. She staggered into the village an hour after the arrival of the vanguard, pluckily refusing offers of a lift from passing automobiles.

The scheduled twenty miles between Metuchen, N. J., the day's starting point, and this village, was stretched into twenty-seven as the result of the women taking the wrong road. This carried them over a stretch of rough marching before they found the main highway again. Three women dropped out en route, leaving thirteen "regular" to-night.

Mrs. John Boldt, who reached the outskirts of the village nearly an hour ahead of the main "army," received a reception which frightened her. The students, who had all the roads into the village guarded, discovered her plodding along, and sent word back to the campus that the first hiker had arrived. Two hundred students marched out to meet her. They surrounded her, two of the students taking her arm. Thus they escorted her a mile, singing and yelling. Mrs. Boldt finally appealed to two professors of the university, who rushed in among the students and rescued her. A student-filled automobile that had been scouring the country roads in search of the "army" came into town shortly afterward and announced that the "main division" was approaching. The students immediately went out to meet them, and the scene was renewed. This time, however, the marchers were "in force," and the greeting of the students was less vociferous than before.

The students fell in line and marched to the Princeton Inn, their numbers by this time swelling to more than 500. Here the students called for a speech from "General" Jones. The suffragette leader, undaunted, mounted a chair and asked that the students form a men's league for woman suffrage. This request was greeted with cheers, mingled with cat calls. The "general" asked the students to return an hour later to hear Miss Elizabeth Freeman, "official orator" of the party. They did, and Miss Freeman talked to them from the steps of the hotel. Cheers and good-natured gibes interrupted at most every sentence, but, unperturbed, the suffragette orator spoke for over an hour.

Earlier in the day the army received a similar reception at Rye, N. J., where, at New Brunswick, which was reached at noon.

Farmers Encourage Them.

The day's march was through a stretch of comparatively lonely country, but there was scarcely a farm-house passed whose inhabitants did not give the women some words of encouragement. One farmer hospitably opened his house for rest and tea.

President-Elect Wilson, to whom the suffragettes expect to deliver a message at the time of his inauguration, was in town to-night, but "General" Jones decided to make no attempt to see him here.

The women have covered in their

Candidate for Office

WARREN FETTERELL, graduate of V. M. I. and law graduate of the University of Virginia, native of Danville, and prominent young lawyer, who is candidate for appointment as assistant district attorney for the Western District of Virginia.

first two days of marching forty-three miles, and they were footsore and weary to-night. To-morrow they expect to march ten miles to Trenton.

DISTILLERS LOSE FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

(Continued From First Page)

to say that he and the corporation are one person and not two. He may not obtain for himself the limitation of a liability and the other advantages which flow from the conduct of the business by the corporation, and then, when it suits him, say that there is no difference between him and the corporation.

"For the purposes of this case, it is immaterial whether Wood owned one share of the corporation's stock or all of it. Even if Wood had been the owner in his own name of the distillery property, its forfeiture in a civil proceeding in consequence of its having been used by him to defraud the government would have been no bar to his prosecution for the personal crime committed by him."

The court sums the case up as one in which "the corporation committed the offense and the defendants, each of them, knowingly, wilfully and actively, aided, abetted, concealed and procured their commission."

Turns Down Felony Plea.

The petition of the defense to the Court of Appeals set forth, among other things, that the offense charged in each of the two counts upon which conviction was secured was punishable by imprisonment for more than one year. Under section 235 of the penal code, such offenses are felonies. The absence in the counts of the allegation that the acts charged were committed feloniously, the defense claimed, destroyed their validity.

To this plea the Court of Appeals answers that since the government asserts that the penal code has no application to breaches of the internal revenue laws, it will not undertake to pass upon the government's interpretation. The opinion quotes a case of sixty years ago, in which the court held that:

"Where a crime is made a felony by statute, it is not necessary to charge that it was feloniously committed, unless the statute itself makes a felonious intent an element of the offense."

OTTENBURN HOTEL SOLD.

J. B. Barker, of Richmond, Purchases Property for $10,000.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Annapolis, Md., February 13.—The Ottenburn Hotel was sold at public auction yesterday for $10,000. J. B. Barker, of Richmond, was the purchaser.

The citizens of Annapolis held a meeting to-night in the High School to discuss the question of incorporating the village.

How Often Have You Heard the Expression

"I had a chance to get in on that, but did not do so, and allowed an excellent opportunity to go by." Don't let slip this opportunity to become a shareholder---if only for $100---in the PROPOSITION OF THE DAY. An EXCEPTIONAL investment---safe and profitable and with quick returns.

NATIONAL ADJUSTABLE WINDOW CORPORATION, manufacturers of "THE PATENTED STEEL STILE," an attachment operating "THE RICHMOND ADJUSTABLE WINDOW," is offering 700 shares of its stock ($70,000.00) for public sale. BOOKS OPEN MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17th. THIS IS AN INVESTMENT OF HUNDREDS WITH RETURNS AS OF THOUSANDS, and you will say as much after seeing a demonstration.

Demonstrations of "The Richmond Adjustable Window"
Now Being Held at Room 502 Times-Dispatch Building

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

M. J. SUMMERFIELD, Fiscal Agent

National Adjustable Window Corp.

Room 502 Times-Dispatch Building.

Phone Madison 5852.

SPEAKER'S DAUGHTER NOW IS SUFFRAGIST

Miss Genevieve Clark Will Ride in Pageant at Capital.

Washington, February 13.—Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Clark, is to ride on the Missouri float in the woman's suffrage procession March 3, according to announcement made at suffrage headquarters to-day.

A great deal of interest is being taken by Missourians in the coming woman's suffrage demonstration, and they are making many preparations for the part which Missouri is to have in the parade. Mrs. Martha C. Ewing, of St. Louis, is in charge of this work.

Mrs. Champ Clark and Mrs. Ewing will be at home at Mrs. Clark's residence one afternoon every week to discuss with Missourians the plans for the parade. Suffrage headquarters to-day were notified by Mrs. Clara B. Welles, of Chicago, that the Illinois delegation for the parade would be so large that special headquarters were desired.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, of Chicago, president of the Illinois State Suffrage Association, will be here to lead the delegation.

Mrs. Donald Hooker, of Baltimore, has notified the headquarters that six golden chariots which Baltimore will lead for the parade are to be sent to Washington immediately. They are two-horse chariots.

Mrs. Woodward Clark, of Australia, who has taken a prominent part in the public life of that country for a number of years, will have a place on the Australian float.

Mrs. Patricia Street, of Australia, to-day went to New York to consult with Miss Inez Milholland in regard to the costumes which are to be worn by the parade.

Challenge Hefflin to Debate.

A challenge to debate the suffrage question has been sent by the woman suffragists to Representative Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, who criticized them severely at a recent meeting in Falls Church, Va. It is said to be likely that Miss Inez Milholland, of New York, one of the suffrage leaders, and regarded as one of the most beautiful women in the country, will be put up by the suffragists as Mr. Hefflin's opponent in the debate.

The challenge is the result of a meeting of suffragists held last night in the District National Bank building. At the meeting the speakers included Mrs. Owen Kildare, Mrs. Louis Ottenberg and Mrs. J. Otho Stevenson, wife of Dr. Stevenson.

Former Mayor George W. Hawxhurst, of Falls Church, attended the meeting to assure the women that the people of Falls Church were not in sympathy with Representative Hefflin's remarks on suffrage. He was invited to Falls Church to talk on religion, Mr. Hawxhurst said, but digressed from his subject to attack the suffrage procession.

"All that Mr. Hefflin said about suffragists has not been printed," said the former Mayor. "He charged that 50 per cent of the suffragists are divorced, and the other 25 per cent are living unhappily with their husbands. The people who heard him know he was not telling the truth."

"Mr. Hefflin seems to feel so sure of himself that I think the proper thing for the suffragists to do is to challenge him to a joint debate on the question of woman suffrage," said Mrs. Stevenson. "If he has got the courage of his convictions, let him get on the public platform in Washington. He precipitated this issue down in Virginia, where he thought nobody would hear of his speech. Let him choose his judges and his audience."

Word was received from Cincinnati, O., to-day that Miss Anna Hall, a prominent Cincinnati suffragist, will march in chains in the suffrage parade. The announcement was made at a meeting of the Susan E. Anthony Club of Cincinnati, which will march in the parade with the Twentieth Century Club of New York.

Miss Hall said: "I shall represent a prisoner weighted down with a ball and chain, because that is the way Ohio women are shackled by the iniquitous laws of Ohio, which do not permit women to vote."

Officers for New Company.

Commissions were issued yesterday from the office of the Adjutant-General to the following officers for Company G, Fourth Regiment of Infantry, Virginia Volunteers: Charles F. Heinemann, captain; Clarence Ward, first lieutenant; Roland Thorp, second lieutenant. Captain Heinemann was formerly an officer in the Fifth Maryland Infantry.

Evidence Fully Heard.

In the case of The West Disinfecting Company against F. V. Gunn & Co., which has been tried in the Equity Court for several days, the evidence was concluded yesterday and the instructions argued before Judge Cram. The case will be argued before the jury to-day. The case is an involved one, being for alleged breach of contract on one hand, with a counter claim for money alleged to be due on the other. A. J. Montague is representing the plaintiff and John Garland Pollard the defendant.

Trade Report.

Bradstreet's to-morrow will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade conditions generally are satisfactory, and in some lines unusually active for this season of the year. Continuous temperate weather has favored operations, which are active, creating a steady demand for supplies. At the same time the moderate weather has retarded sales of reasonably priced goods, and early reduction sales are noted. Manufacturers of harness report unusually good sales. Prospects for more favorable for a good season for those engaged in the manufacture of agricultural fertilizers, as farming operations are further advanced. It is usual at this season. Wholesale shoe and dry goods dealers report satisfactory orderings. Large quantities of loose leaf tobacco are still on the market, and prices for the better grades continue to advance. Retail trade is fair. Collections are fair.

NEW ORDINANCE

City to Own Street Car Tracks on New James River Bridge.

Mayor Ainslie approved yesterday the following ordinances and resolutions: Ordinance granting the use of city sewer to Samuel P. Waddill and Dolly C. Adams, on Grove Avenue beyond the corporate limits.

Ordinance closing alley between Q. R. Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Streets, and dedicating land to open a new alley in its place.

Resolution instructing the Committee on Finance to include in the annual budget $15,500 to pay the cost of street railway tracks on the new May Bridge.

Ordinance appropriating $1,323 to pay the heirs of Thomas Pollard and R. R. Lipscomb for damages to their property by reason of the grading of North Seventh Street.

Resolution approving the official bonds of John E. Butler, Building Inspector; Henry P. Beck and Robert Whitte, as members of the Administrative Board.

SELECTS STAFF OFFICERS.

Commander of Fourth Virginia Regiment Makes Announcement.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 13.—Colonel E. E. Goodwyn, commander of the Fourth Regiment of Infantry, Virginia Volunteers, at a luncheon at the Virginia Club to-day announced the appointment of his staff officers to succeed those who, according to custom, resign following the election of a new commander last summer.

The new appointees are: Captain and adjutant, C. B. Boreland, who succeeds Captain W. H. Church; captain and quartermaster, J. V. Bidgood, who succeeds Captain D. S. Einstein; captain and ordnance officer, E. M. Stribling, who succeeds Captain Charles H. Banks; captain and commissary, Baldwin Myers, who succeeds Captain Henry C. Tobie.

The new staff of officers will accompany Colonel Goodwyn and the Fourth Regiment to Washington to participate in the inaugural parade on March 4.

Trade Report.

Bradstreet's to-morrow will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade conditions generally are satisfactory, and in some lines unusually active for this season of the year. Continuous temperate weather has favored operations, which are active, creating a steady demand for supplies. At the same time the moderate weather has retarded sales of reasonably priced goods, and early reduction sales are noted. Manufacturers of harness report unusually good sales. Prospects for more favorable for a good season for those engaged in the manufacture of agricultural fertilizers, as farming operations are further advanced. It is usual at this season. Wholesale shoe and dry goods dealers report satisfactory orderings. Large quantities of loose leaf tobacco are still on the market, and prices for the better grades continue to advance. Retail trade is fair. Collections are fair.

INSPECT GROUNDS FOR ARMY CAMP

(Continued From First Page)

It is very evident that such a contingency is being considered in high official quarters. Plans have been made for months to take a large part of the organized militia into the field. It is hardly necessary to say that the local guardmen are anxious to see real service. Not a few took occasion yesterday to remind General Sale that they are ready, while others not actively connected with the Virginia Volunteers, wanted to know what they could do to get an order to go.

TWO SHOT IN THEIR HOME

General Officers of Metropolitan Life Meet District Agents.

The triennial convention of field representatives of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for the Southern Territory was held at the Jefferson Hotel last night. Among the general officers of the company present were: Halley Elske, vice-president; Frank G. Ayres, fourth vice-president; Leo K. Frankel, sixth vice-president; Dr. Augustus S. Knight, medical director; William J. Tully, general solicitor; and William R. Stewart, superintendent of agencies.

Special invited guests at a banquet held at the Jefferson last night were Governor William H. Mann, Mayor George Ainslie, Insurance Commissioner Joseph Button, Bishop R. A. Gibson, Rev. A. C. Brown, D. D. Henry W. Rountree, Thomas B. McAdams, John Stewart Bryan, S. K. McKee, T. M. Carrington, R. B. Wellford, Joseph C. Taylor, Dr. Ennion G. Williams and Thomas P. Bryan. About 100 district agents, superintendents and medical examiners attended the meeting.

Will Meet on City Tug.

The Council Committee on Dock, Rivers and Harbors met on Dock, last night and adjourned to meet at the city tug to-morrow morning. The question was raised whether the adjourned meeting might be held on the city tug, to which objection was raised that the tug and its crew are now under control of the Administrative Board.

Final Settlement of Warwick County Oyster Shore Troubles on March 11.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 13.—An announcement is made by W. McDonald Lee, chairman of the State Fisheries Commission, that March 11, 1913, will see the final settlement of the long-famous Warwick County oyster shore troubles. This time limit for parties encroaching on the public domain of James River was set by the commission last year, and on this date a controversy that has engaged the attention of three fisheries commissions, covering which period has been twelve years, will have passed into history.

The James River Fisheries Corporation has petitioned the commission for an extension of the lease, claiming a dull market and inability to secure adequate help. The commission has promised to consider the petition.

TIME LIMIT NEAR AT HAND.

Final Settlement of Warwick County Oyster Shore Troubles on March 11.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 13.—An announcement is made by W. McDonald Lee, chairman of the State Fisheries Commission, that March 11, 1913, will see the final settlement of the long-famous Warwick County oyster shore troubles. This time limit for parties encroaching on the public domain of James River was set by the commission last year, and on this date a controversy that has engaged the attention of three fisheries commissions, covering which period has been twelve years, will have passed into history.

The James River Fisheries Corporation has petitioned the commission for an extension of the lease, claiming a dull market and inability to secure adequate help. The commission has promised to consider the petition.

Will Meet on City Tug.

The Council Committee on Dock, Rivers and Harbors met on Dock, last night and adjourned to meet at the city tug to-morrow morning. The question was raised whether the adjourned meeting might be held on the city tug, to which objection was raised that the tug and its crew are now under control of the Administrative Board.

But the river is under control of this committee," asserted Chairman Rogers, who thought there would be no difficulty in securing the use of the tug any afternoon when the committee desired to make an excursion on the river.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS ARE PROVIDED IN BILL

ANIMALS BURNED IN STABLE FIRE

Twenty-Eight Mules and Horses
Perish in Flames at Fayetteville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Fayetteville, N. C., February 13.—Twenty-eight mules and horses perished in flames which early this morning destroyed a small barn belonging to C. L. Bevil, and livery stables adjoining the home of J. F. West, Twelve horses were rescued from the West stable, and all the dead animals were buried. The value of the stock of the barn was about $7,500, and there is no insurance.

Only one mule among twenty-nine animals in the stable could be removed from the terrifying flames, and it was so badly burned that it must die. The barn in which the fire originated was directly behind the big main barn of Bevil stables, and within a stone's throw of the county courthouse and jail, while across the street from the West stable stood those of W. W. Rankin and a branch house of Swift & Company, and numerous dwellings. Half a dozen dwellings caught, but were extinguished. One of the most spectacular fires that has occurred in recent years quickly followed an inspection of the city yesterday by representatives of the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association. Five hundred dollars worth of Bibles, property of agents, were burned in the office of the West stable.

A murder was committed in Fayetteville late this afternoon. Levy Strong, a one-legged negro, shot John Byrd, negro, in the throat, from the effects of which Byrd died in a short time. Both were cooks on a track-laying train of the Atlantic Coast Line.

The train was side-tracked in the southern part of the town. The negroes got into a quarrel. Byrd was drinking, cursed Strong, and finally attacked him and threw him to the floor.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

CAPITAL BATTLEGROUND

Suffrage and Anti-Suffrage Leaders to Meet in Popular Support.

Boston, February 13.—If plans of anti-suffrage leaders are carried out, Washington is to be a battleground on which small armies of suffragists and anti-suffragists will contend during inauguration week for popular support. The proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

Leaders of the opposition plan to precede the suffragist "pilgrims" to Washington, and to have the anti-suffragist campaign under way before they are in favor of suffrage got started.

A public meeting in a Washington hotel, at which the proposal of the suffragists to carry their campaign for "votes for women" into the nation's capital in connection with the inaugural program was followed to-day by formal announcement of an opposition movement, which promises to be a bitter contest in Washington of all the available campaigning strength of the anti-suffragists.

Delegations of women from sixteen States are expected to go to Washington according to leaders of the "anti-suffragists" who are in this city. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York Anti-Suffragist Association, has been consulting with officials of the Massachusetts Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women.

If It Passes, Fourth-Class Postmaster May Be Chosen by Ballot.

FATHERED BY BRISTOW

Adoption of System Will Be Optional With Post-Office Department.

Washington, February 13.—Primary elections for the selection of fourth-class postmasters are provided for in an amendment to the post-office appropriation bill which the Senate Committee on Post-offices to-day added to that measure. The consideration of the bill was completed by the committee, but on account of the necessity of gathering information relating to some of the changes, the bill was withheld from the Senate.

The amendment regarding fourth-class postmasters was adopted as a result of a suggestion by Senator Bratton of Kansas, although his original provision was much modified. As agreed upon by the committee it will apply to fourth-class offices, and it will be optional with the Post-Office Department as to whether the system shall be put into execution. In that event it authorizes the holding of primary elections, and when such elections are held it is made obligatory upon the department to appoint the person receiving the highest number of votes among the patrons of any given post-office.

The committee also passed favorably upon an amendment requiring the re-weighing of the mails next September in order to arrive at a basis of compensation to pay the railroad for carrying the mail. The amendment repeals the most criticized blue tag law which gives the Postmaster-General discretion in delaying second-class mail matter.

Dam Bill Debated.

Washington, February 13.—Practically all the various schools of conservation had their say to-day in the Senate debate over the proposed passage of the Connecticut River dam bill.

Senator Root advocated the right of the Federal government to attach as a condition to the license to maintain the dam a requirement of a payment to the Federal government of a portion of the revenue obtained by the dam company for the aid of the navigation of the stream.

Sensors Works and Borah attacked this condition as stopping the development of the resources of the country. Senator Poindexter expressed approval of the bill as being a step toward preserving the natural resources of the public by preventing their getting into the exclusive control of great monopolistic corporations.

Efforts on the part of Senator Brandegee to procure an agreement to vote for the dam to-morrow failed, but he gave notice he would require consent to a vote on Monday.

Denies Restraint of Trade.

Washington, February 13.—E. G. Buckland, vice-president of the New Haven Railroad and Steamship Companies, headed a delegation which testified to-day before the House shipping trust investigating committee.

The audience testified that of a total water traffic in and out of New England ports, coastwise and not including trans-Atlantic, aggregating 33,660,663 short tons in the fiscal year 1912 the New Haven system controlled only 5.8 per cent. He denied that there was any effort to stifle competition.

Mr. Buckland testified that of $5,000,000 total capitalization of the Merchants and Miners, the New Haven controlled $2,531,700. He said the New Haven system controlled the Maine Steamship Company.

Broom Factory Destroyed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Salisbury, N. C., February 13.—The broom factory of Watkins Brothers, in China Grove, was burned last night, entailing a loss of $1,000, with $500 insurance. A lot of machinery was lost. The fire started in the second story, and the origin is unknown.

SHE HAD PRIZE HAIR.

Long, rich, heavy hair. Smooth, soft, luxuriant hair. She says she owes it all to Hall's Hair Renewer. But she doesn't. It helped a big lot, but that is all. She had a good digestion, rich blood, strong nerves. Don't go through life half sick and with stunted hair. Consult your doctor and follow his advice.

Richmond Trust & Savings Co.